Visually challenged girls pay floral tributes to Hellen Keller on her 130th birth anniversary on Sunday

Amway Opportunity Foundation (AOF) celebrated the 130th birth anniversary of Helen Keller at Andh Kanya Prakash Gruh. Paying tribute to Helen Keller, three visually challenged girls narrated her inspiring story in Gujarati, Hindi and English. Speaking on the occasion, the additional director general of police and head of anti corruption bureau Chitranjan Singh said that the integration of visually challenged people into mainstream can be made possible through such forum. "Helen Keller is a source of inspiration for all of us, her determination to fight against all the odds is a lesson for us," said Achinta Banerjee, vice president of Amway India (west).
